Year 4 News

Our new-look newsletter with all the latest updates from school

28th February 2020

Learning this week

We started a new book this week called "There's a Pharaoh in my Bath" which is very appropriate as we visit the British Museum this week too. Ask your child about the Rosetta Stone, what mummies did they see and what other artefacts were they most fascinated by.

In Maths, we have been studying time—converting hours, seconds, minutes, days, months and years. Also we are looking at telling the time on an analogue clock face—many of the children need practice with this at home—please can you support them with this important life skill.

We've also worked out how to use the 24 hour clock. Hopefully they'll never be late to school after learning all this!

'Book in a Jar' competition

For World Book Day 5th March 2020

Design a jar with your favourite book inside. Entries must be handed in by 9am on the 5th of March in the hall.

LOTS OF PRIZES TO BE WON!!!!!!

By Izzy P 55

World Book Day next Thursday 5th March—children are invited to dress up as a book hero or villain! Prizes for the best costume.

Reminder:
Bedtime Book Club
Every Monday, after school, the library will be open for children to select a book with their parents. This is a great opportunity to choose books together, take a look at our richly resourced library and promote a love of reading.
